

WHAT IS CHICAGO DEEP POT PIZZA ?

Chicago Deep Pot Pizza is a very unique style of pizza, first developed in Chicago in 1972 by the world-famous Oven Grinder Pizza Company. It is often referred to as the Upside Down Pizza because of the unusual way it is made.

Chicago Deep Pot Pizza is actually baked in a bowl or pot, with the pizza dough on top as opposed to on the bottom with regular pizza. When it is cooked, it is flipped over by the waiter, so it resembles a regular pizza, but with a deeper more bowl-shaped base, full of the juicy flavorsome goodness of a baked pie.

Before prohibition there were 1750 breweries operating in the US. By 1980 that number had fallen to less than 100! Now, thanks to the craft beer revolution, that number has grown to over 2000. These breweries produce a huge variety of beer styles and tastes and Sierra Nevada is one of those. Sierra Nevada American Pale Ale pours a clear dark golden color with a small tan head. Its unique piny and grapefruits aromas come from the use of whole cone american hops. Flavor is grapefruit, pines and caramel with a bitter sweet finish. Medium carbonation, medium body with a silky mouthfeel.
